

Glen Arbor Township

Assessing Officers' Report December 2025

Sales Summary 2025 for the year 2026 Assessments:

For the 2026 assessments, the estimated sales study ratio is 46.56%, representing a required mark-to-market increase of $ 86 million. This estimate is calculated by dividing the assessed value of the residential class at the close of the March Board of Review by the County Equalization two-year sales study ratio ending March 31st. The sale ratios for the three prior years, 2025, 2024, and 2023, are 45.74%, 39.75%, and 42.01%, respectively.

The capped taxable value formula will limit taxable value increases to the inflation rate multiplier. The calculation of the Inflation Rate Multiplier is set in statute in MCL 211.34d. With year-to-date published information, the two-year average is $311.547 / 319.9966 = 2.7\%$.

As calculated by the County Equalization, Headlee Rollback will ensure that uncapping for new home buyers does not result in a windfall of revenue for taxing jurisdictions by rolling back millage rates, providing new revenue only for inflation and new construction. The L-4029 rollback on 2025 Township millages is 0.9851. This reduces the Glen Arbor Township levy from last year's .4514 to .4446 on the original 1969 levy of 1.0 mills.

The S&P Cotality (formerly CoreLogic) Case-Shiller U.S. National Home Price Index measures the change in value of single-family housing within the United States. In September 2025, gains came in at 1.3% and are anticipated to land between 1% and 2% at year's end. New York leads the yearly gain at 5.5%, followed by Chicago and Boston at 5.2% and 4.1%.
